A time to build without fear

I have had a strong impression in the Lord that “It’s a time for rejoicing and a time to build in new territory for the body of Christ”.

It could mean we are moving into a new geographic region, or we are moving into a new endeavor God called us to, or both.

The body of Christ crossed over in this past season from being long in the desert and having waited for promises to come to pass.

It’s been a long journey in the wilderness. Many are tired still and the Holy Spirit is encouraging us to rest so we may hear clearly the instruction of the Holy Spirit

We are taking territory that’s unfamiliar to us. We may be uncertain of the details, but the Holy Spirit is assuring us of what we are to be doing, the “when” and the “how” and with “whom”.

Be encouraged because in this time in the new place God has brought us to, we are gaining wisdom & strength and clarity in the Lord.

The new territory of new endeavors and building the new ones we have been called to build were once daunting and seemed impossible for us to do. I know the Lord has breathed new life into us for this time.

When the Israelites reached their promised land- it was a time of rejoicing, resting and assessing the layout of the land so they could build and become the nation of Israel.

They had journeyed for a very long time. It was time to celebrate, to re-establish and build. The giants in the land and the enemy of Nehemiah got dealt with because the Lord had already planned their victory in their new endeavors well. All the Israelites and Nehemiah had to do was trust and obey. These are two different accounts of how God helped His people accomplish “the impossible to man”.

He has ordered our steps so rejoice.

Scriptures:

Ecclesiastes 3:3

...a time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;

Nehemiah 4:6

So we rebuilt the wall till all of it reached half its height, for the people worked with all their heart.

Psalm 77:14

Thou art the God that doest wonders: thou hast declared thy strength among the people
