The children are being raised up

This past week I was in S. Carolina and visited with some dear friends to pray and get away. During this journey, one of my friends shared with me what an Uber driver told her regarding the area of Myrtle Beach. He mentioned it was ranked number eleven in the states for trafficking of children and adults. So, from that point on, everywhere my son and I walked, we prayed the Blood of Jesus over the children and prayed for the city. We specifically prayed for the children visiting and those residing there. Over the course of 2 short days - I received a strong impression from the Holy Spirit that the children are being raised up, not just there but all over the earth. The message the Lord gave me was clear- there are children who will not choose to live to do evil or repeat what they have experienced but they will instead choose to live for Christ, to live holy and do great things for the kingdom of God. The Lord is raising these children to be strong voices and advocates for children and for righteousness. There are many that have been and will be delivered out of the very pits of the hell they lived in. These children will become the mightiest of voices in the near future. God showed me that this specific group of children is becoming equipped to counter the evils that have lulled adults to sleep even amongst the pews in our churches.

These children are becoming equipped now and in their young adulthood the Lord will use them to counter what was done to them. In our nation and states, especially in trafficking states such as California, Georgia, DC, Texas, New York, Nevada to name some of the top six. I saw these children grow up to develop strategies, safety products and organizations to effectively curb the trafficking industry. These children have grown up with their eyes opened to evil on social media we have not seen as children. It does not scare some of them, but it has made them angry at it and they will do something different about it than what we have seen thus far. Also, they have lived with open border policies that have diminished their safety which in turn, has put their hearts into motion to protect because they were not protected somehow. There have been several prophecies and documented cases of children speaking up and the Lord using them to prophesy and pray for others with boldness because they have child-like faith. Yes, Lord, have Your way in the children. Won't God do it- turn what was meant for evil for their good so they could save many.? Oh, yes, He will!

Prayer Points: 1.) Let's agree for justice to come to the children that are being exploited right now and for their rescue out of being trafficked.

2.) Pray for Holy Spirit intervention on behalf of these children's souls- that the Lord would reveal Himself to them while in captivity.

3.) Pray they have boldness, and the Lord would provide a supernatural way of escape even through someone helping them escape.

4.) Pray for California border officials to be raised up with a holy boldness to overcome them so they do what is right in the eyes of God and not fear man.

5.) Pray for greater grace for the California government officials that are speaking up- that they are protected and their families too.

6.) Pray for the foster care system to be shut down and that the church replaces the foster system in our state.
